

OPINION

The tricky politics of Obamacare

METRO

Bottle question opposition grows as supporters decry ads

BUSINESS

South Station-Posta Service deal is long overdue

HERE, THERE, AND EVERYWHERE

From food celebrations to Cambodian adventures

By Necce Regis | GLOBE CORRESPONDENT AUGUST 30, 2014

Here

CELEBRATE LOCAL FOOD, BEER, MUSIC IN VERMONT

Bring your appetite to Eat by Northeast, a free three-day celebration Sept. 19-21 showcasing Vermont's breweries, restaurants, and local food entrepreneurs. Hosted by the Skinny Pancake and Higher Ground, the all-ages festival in Burlington's Oakledge Park features more than 30 free seminars and offers food from dozens of farmers, chefs, and food producers. A fund-raiser for local nonprofit food organizations, the weekend also features kid-friendly programming and live music. Ticketed events ($15-$40) include Brewhaha Beer & Cider Tasting (Vermont's newest, smallest, and brewing luminaries); Beer Chocolate Tasting (with Lake Champlain Chocolates); Great Harvest Supper (local whole pig, steer, calf, and goat roast by Hen of the Wood, The Farmhouse, Misery Loves Company, and Prohibition Pig, with vegan-vegetarian options). No on-site parking; shuttles will run from nearby lots. RSVP online for free seminars. eatxne.com

OUTDOOR SCULPTURE EXHIBIT

Art takes center stage on the 100-acre campus at the Pingree School's fifth annual Flying Horse Exhibit Sept. 1-Nov. 23 in South Hamilton, one of the largest shows of outdoor art in New England. The public is welcome to stroll the grounds and contemplate more than 40 works by more than 30 sculptors working in many media including stainless steel, glass, ceramic, copper, wood, bronze, and more. Artists making a repeat appearance this year include Daniel Altshuler, Lindley Briggs, Larry Elardo, Rich Erickson, and Shawn Farrell. A full-color catalog will guide you through the sites, and many works are available for sale. The exhibit is free and open every day.

Attend a reception with the artists on Sept. 27 at 1 p.m. 978-468-4415, www.pingree.org

There

FAIRMONT AND GOPRO VIDEO COMPETITION

CONTINUE READING BELOW ▼

Calling all video enthusiasts: Fairmont Hotels & Resorts, teamed with camera company GoPro, is offering a competition for aspiring filmmakers. Simply create a unique video of one of your favorite places — capturing hidden gems, off-the-beaten-path experiences, or thrilling adventures — and you may become one of 42 Destination GoPro Heroes. Winners receive three-night trips for two to one of Fairmont's destinations in North America, state-of-the-art

GoPro camera, and $500 Visa gift card. Winners will then creatively document their trip on their new camera, and submit the finished video for a chance to win the Grand Prize: a seven-night trip for two to one of Fairmont's North American destinations, including airfare, accommodations in deluxe room, full American breakfasts, and a $100 per day food and beverage credit. Don't want to make a video? Share an e-postcard for a chance to win prizes, including GoPro cameras, BMW bikes, Fairmont Gold bathrobes, and more. Submit videos by Sept. 14; postcards by Jan. 30. Free. www.mydestinationstory.com

DELUXE CAMBODIAN ADVENTURES

The luxury travel specialists at Red Savannah have added a new itinerary to their international destination roster. Alternative Cambodia (pictured at left) is a two-week sojourn offering handcrafted experiences in this popular destination. Visit Bangkok's iconic attractions in Old Town such as Grand Palace and Wat Po Temple, including observing the monks' early morning chanting ritual. Other private tours and experiences include a visit to the fishing village Kompong Khleang on Tonlé Sap Lake; witness the sun rise before a picnic breakfast at Angkor Wat; zip line through the jungle canopy with the new Flight of the Gibbon; kayak, river swim, and walk through rain forest in the Cardamom Hills; camp on the beach at Ream National Park; motorboat through paddy fields to Phnom Da, an ancient Funan site dating to 400 BC, and more. Best time to travel: mid-November through March. Guide price: $4,785 per person, excluding international flights, based on two people sharing. Price varies by date, room category, and availability. Some guided excursions: add $10-15 per person.

855-468-5555, www.redsavannah.com

Everywhere

PORTABLE BABY BATH

When it's bath time for baby and you're on the road, Stokke Flexi Bath is a simple answer to your little one's needs. This foldable tub (pictured above) can accommodate children from birth to 4 years old. Eliminates the worry of where to find an appropriate sink or tub when you are camping, staying at a B&B or roadside motel, or even visiting grandma.

Available at PishPoshBaby in five colors:

transparent, blue, white, pink, orange. $40.

877-747-4767, www.pishposhbaby.com/stokke-flexi-bath.html

STYLE A-GO-GO

On the road and need a haircut? How about a pedicure? StyleSeat, a free app for Apple and Android devices, makes it easy to maintain your style on the go. An online destination to find and book appointments with beauty and wellness professionals in nearly 15,000 US cities, StyleSeat connects you with more than 220,000 stylists, including specialists for hair, nails, makeup, massage, and personal trainers. Browse photos to discover new trends and ideas. Members can access last-minute deals near them. Online booking accommodates any schedule, making it possible to book appointments after business hours. www.styleseat.com

NECEE REGIS

Necee Regis can be reached at neceeregis@gmail.com.

0 COMMENTS