When your tagged item leaves Blue-Tag," he said, "you can put the device in your luggage, keys, tablet, or whatever you don’t want to lose, and then we’ll send you a notification and location on the phone.” He said the people who buy the trackers are mostly families, travelers, and people who want to cut down on lost keys.

When you’re on the go, you can also use the app to rename a device, change the color, or rename a device. If you lose your lost item, the tracker will still work. The tracker can also be used as a panic button or an alarm if you’re in a pinch.

The app also allows you to quickly find your lost phone or laptop. If you lose your phone, you can simply tap the app to locate your device. The tracker will then display the location of your lost phone or laptop.

Additionally, the tracker can also be used as a panic button. If you’re faced with a dangerous situation, you can tap the app to alert the authorities and receive help. The tracker will then show the location of your device.

The tracker can also be used as an alarm. If you’re in a pinch, you can tap the app to sound the alarm and receive help. The tracker will then display the location of your device.

The tracker can also be used to locate your lost item. If you lose your lost item, you can simply tap the app to locate your device. The tracker will then display the location of your lost item.

The tracker can also be used as an alarm. If you’re in a pinch, you can tap the app to sound the alarm and receive help. The tracker will then display the location of your lost item.

The tracker can also be used as a panic button. If you’re faced with a dangerous situation, you can tap the app to alert the authorities and receive help. The tracker will then display the location of your device.

The tracker can also be used as a panic button. If you’re faced with a dangerous situation, you can tap the app to alert the authorities and receive help. The tracker will then display the location of your device.

The tracker can also be used as an alarm. If you’re in a pinch, you can tap the app to sound the alarm and receive help. The tracker will then display the location of your lost item.