

Prettiest Fall Foliage Villages in Vermont

TABLE OF CONTENTS (<http://www.yankeemagazine.com/issue-archive?issue-year=&issue-month=>)

Vermont recently declared itself home of the World's Best Foliage. With forest covering three-quarters of the state and the highest percentage of maple trees in the country, it's easy to see why. "No one does foliage better than Vermont," said Governor Peter Shumlin. Here are ten of the prettiest fall foliage villages in Vermont.

Next > (http://www.yankeemagazine.com/article/travel/littleton-new-hampshire?utm_source=yankee&utm_medium=prev_next&utm_campaign=prev_next_buttons)

Photo/Art by David McMasters

Peacham, Vermont

PEACHAM

The white spire of the Congregational Church stands out amid the blazing orange, red and yellow leaves bedecking the hills around this teeny Northeast Kingdom village – population 731 – settled in 1776.

peacham.net (<http://peacham.net/>)

Photo/Art by Stephen Goodhue

Manchester, VT

MANCHESTER

Nestled at the foot of Mount Equinox in the picturesque Battenkill River Valley, the town is a favorite for fall foliage lovers who also crave fine dining, luxe accommodations, golf and shopping galore.

visitmanchestervt.com (<http://visitmanchestervt.com/>)

Photo/Art by Butch Lombardi (<http://eastbayimages.zenfolio.com/>)

Woodstock, VT

WOODSTOCK

Peak foliage colors light the hills surrounding the Green, the town's manicured central square rimmed with historic 18th and 19th century homes and white-spired churches near the winding Ottauquechee River.

woodstockvt.com (<http://woodstockvt.com>)

Photo/Art by Dennis Curran

Foliage surrounding the Warren Covered Bridge in Warren, VT

WARREN

A covered bridge, waterfall and historic rural village with an old-timey general store provide the quintessential New England setting for foliage aficionados in the Mad River Valley.

warrenvt.org (<http://www.warrenvt.org/>)

Find out why the Warren Store made our list of the Best Country Stores in Vermont.

(<http://www.yankeemagazine.com/article/travel/best-5-vermont-country-stores>)

Photo/Art by Dennis Curran

Dorset, VT

DORSET

Maple-covered hillsides attract visitors to this quiet and historic community – chartered in 1761 – tucked into the tranquil landscape of southern Vermont. Marble extracted from former quarries that are now popular swimming holes adorns the all-marble church on the village green.

dorsetvt.com (<http://www.dorsetvt.com/>)

Newfane, VT

NEWFANE

Federal, Greek Revival and Victorian architecture line the streets and town common of this village in southern Vermont, where the covered Williamsville Bridge highlights the bucolic and vibrant autumn landscape north of Brattleboro.

newfanevt.com (<http://newfanevt.com/>)

STOWE

Flaming red, orange and yellow foliage enliven Mount Mansfield, Vermont's highest peak, towering above this historic and vibrant community known for its outdoor recreation, boutique accommodations and places to dine. Located in a fertile valley in the north-central region, Stowe is so much more than skiing and snow.

gostowe.com (<http://www.gostowe.com/>)

Read more about Stowe, Vermont! (<http://www.yankeemagazine.com/explore-new-england/food-wine-stowe>)

1 2 (<http://www.yankeemagazine.com/article/travel/prettiest-fall-foliage-villages-in-vermont/2>) | Next page
(<http://www.yankeemagazine.com/article/travel/prettiest-fall-foliage-villages-in-vermont/2>)

Please Note: This information was accurate at the time of publication. When planning a trip, please confirm details by directly contacting any company or establishment you intend to visit.

Tags: Fall Foliage (<http://www.yankeemagazine.com/tag/fall-foliage>)

Author: Niecee Regis

Biography: Niecee Regis writes about travel with a focus on food, art, culture, luxury travel, and quirky, off-beat locations for a variety of print and online publications including The Boston Globe, The Washington Post, The Huffington Post, Los Angeles Times, American Way Magazine, and LAN in-flight magazine. Her special interest—some might say obsession—is the world of oysters and shucking competitions.

Website: <http://www.necee.com/> (<http://www.necee.com/>)

We reserve the right to remove or edit comments that are offensive or disrespectful to our readers and/or writers, cannot be verified, lack clarity, or contain profanity. Your comments may be republished by Yankee Magazine across multiple platforms.